Life of touch: restoring rhythm with rhythm

Our Sustainability Standards

Sustainable since day one

Increasingly often in the beauty industry it can be hard to identify which products are genuinely sustainable, natural or organic. The cosmetics market is flooded with ‘nature inspired’ products that, in truth, have very little natural goodness in them and do even less good for the planet. In an ocean of greenwash, how can we be sure that the products we buy are the real deal? At Weleda we adopt only the gold standards of ethical and sustainable practices, setting new benchmarks and driving the change within the beauty and health sectors. Our certifications are independently awarded, globally recognised and rigorously verified.

B-Corp

B Corp certification is awarded by the non-profit organisation B Lab. It is not products that are certified, but a company's actions and overall approach. The focus is on social added value and ecological sustainability, and not maximising profits at any price. In other words, it is about the environment, biodiversity, species protection, human rights, climate protection, employees and customers. B Lab calls it ‘business as a force for good’.

NATRUE Certification

The NATRUE seal on all of Weleda's natural and organic cosmetics guarantees the highest standards of naturalness. The global seal identifies products you can trust to contain truly natural and organic ingredients, free from synthetic ingredients, silicones and mineral oils, GMO ingredients, artificial additives of any kind. It's also your reassurance that the product is cruelty free, because the NATRUE seal is not permitted on cosmetics that have been tested on animals.

“Animal testing is fundamentally against NATRUE's underlying values and ethics; a principle that is embedded in the NATRUE standard”

Dr Mark Smith,
Director General, NATRUE

Zero Plastic Inside

This certification, provided by the Plastic Soup Foundation, can only be awarded to brands and companies that do not use microplastic ingredients in their products. This includes liquid polymers which are still commonly found in many cosmetics, not just plastic microbeads.

Demeter Certified

Weleda UK is the proud owner and careful custodian of 13 acres of Demeter-certified organic land just a couple of miles up the road from our Head Office in Derbyshire. Here we ensure the eco-system is balanced, growing to biodynamic standards to ensure no pesticides or artificial fertilisers are ever used. The land is managed sensitively and we've developed different habitats such as a pond, woodland, meadows and hedgerows, which help to sustain a rich and diverse population of insects, birds and animals. Weleda's 7 other medicinal plant gardens worldwide are Demeter-certified.

Living Wage

Weleda UK has recently been accredited as a Living Wage Employer by the Living Wage Foundation. The Living Wage Foundation is an organisation at the heart of the independent movement of businesses and people that campaign for the idea that a hard day's work deserves a fair day's pay, recognising responsible employers who choose to pay a real Living Wage based on the cost of living, not just the government minimum.

UEBT Member

Weleda has been a member of the Union for Ethical BioTrade since 2011. The UEBT is a nonprofit that sets good practices for how companies and their suppliers source ingredients from biodiversity. Its members are active in the food, cosmetics and natural pharmaceutical sectors. As a UEBT member, Weleda is committed to a world in which all people and biodiversity thrive.

Sustainable Beauty Coalition

The Sustainable Beauty Coalition formed by The British Beauty Council champions a beauty industry whereby all practices are sustainable, ethical and profitable. Weleda UK Managing Director Jayn Sterland was the founding Chairperson of the SBC, and today Jayn holds the position of pillar president for ESG with the British Beauty Council. Jayn's work as a lifelong environmentalist feeds directly into Weleda's own green policies and practices.

B Corp Beauty Coalition

The new B Corp Beauty Coalition brings together over 90 leading cosmetics firms from all around the globe, to improve sustainability standards in the beauty industry. Its mission is to improve the social and environmental impacts of business practices in the beauty industry, through knowledge sharing and responsible innovation, with consistent and transparent communication. Through solid engagement, collaboration and coalition, they seek to improve social and environmental conditions along the supply chain, from raw materials to the finished product. Weleda was one of the early beauty brands to form the Coalition in 2022, subsequently joining the Supervisory Board in 2023.
